Student Officers Attend Conclave At Fullerton J. C.

Problems For Coming Year In College Discussed; Four Faculty There

Plans for organizations and activities of colleges for the coming year were discussed at a meeting of the junior college conference held at Fullerton, October 20.

The program began at 9:30 o'clock in the morning with the opening of the student conference and group discussions. The topics discussed concerned in detail the approximate expenditures, value and other important factors concerning annuals and newspapers. Methods for improvements and advancements of various organizations were also discussed.

Those who attended the conference representing the various organizations of the college were: Mary Bruner, Y. W. C. A.; Sterling Barnett, Y. M. C. A.; David Cherry, forensics; Edwin Gerhardt, social activities; Ray Lindman, The Don; Lyles McNairy, men's athletics; Eleanor Turner, Algol; Helen Richards, W. A. A.; and George Tobias president of student body.

Representing the faculty were Dean Fisk, D. K. Hammond, L. L. Beeman and Mr. Newcomer.

Y. W. Hallowe'en Fest Set For Tuesday Nite

Ten cents and a masquerade costume will admit any J. C. girl to the Y. W. Hallowe'en party next Tuesday night.

It's going to be an honest-to-goodness Hallowe'en spook party, whereabouts unknown, except to Barbara Goodrich, who is in charge of arrangements for the affair. Lena May Willsey, head of the decorations committee; Catherine Jessup, entertainment; and Marian Bruner, refreshments, all promise plenty of pleasant surprises in the way of fun and "eats".

Orders are: to meet at the Y-hut at 7:30 next Tuesday, October 30. Everyone who comes must be in costume. Admission, one dime. All girls are invited.

MUST BORROW FROM MEN'S SPORTS FUND

The president was authorized to appoint two delegates to represent the college at the round table discussion to be held here November 7. He was also authorized to borrow from the men's athletic fund in order to finance the sale of stickers, the money from which when returned is not to be budgeted.

It was decided that the proposition of student body pins be put before the students and organizations, each organization choosing an individual guard.

Helen Richards, chairman, Ray Lindman, and Eleanor Turner were appointed to serve on the committee to investigate the student center.

Retail Business Plan Declared Successful

This year Santa Ana is endeavoring to work out the new plan of teaching students retail trade business. Sixteen energetic students have taken the scheme up and apparently are enjoying the work. This group is made up of both boys and girls.

A special academic course is given these students. That is they go to school for one week then actually go out on a job for a week while their partner, another student attends school. Thus the job is never slack and the students are in school every other week. The difficulty which seems to be encountered by these students is to make up the class work. A plan which appears to be helping them is that they go to classes every day in the week while at school and this way on Tuesday and Thursday, they make up that which they lost out on the preceeding week.

Two students taking the course. Omar Williams and Curtis Van Syoc, were interviewed. The sentiment which both fellows expressed was that the course was "emphatically O. K."

Mr. Williams received an offer from one of the well know chain stores. He refused the position because he thought he would profit the most by "learning while he was earning."

These 16 students who are taking the course formed three clubs to discuss problems in the work.

Hoover Winner In Straw Vote Taken By Don Newspaper

Final Total Stands 171 To 59 In Favor of Hoover; Will Rogers Polls 6

Herbert Hoover would be the next president of the United States if the question were put up to the students of Santa Ana junior college. This fact was revealed by the results of the straw ballot held last week by the Don to determine the student's choice. The final total stood at 171 to 59 in favor of the Republican candidate. This is exactly a three to one majority. Will Rogers, popular candidate on the humor ticket received 7 votes.

Hoover

The general opinion of those who supported Hoover was that he was better suited for the job and that he more truly represented the American people. Reference to definite policies or platform planks were seldom made by those in support of Hoover.

On the other hand the students in favor of Al Smith usually had a definite reason for their view. The most popular reason was Smith's stand on the prohibition question—nearly 30 students out of the total of 59 Smith indicated that they were against this present law.

One of the most surprising things of the whole vote was that little was said concerning the religious question. Only six students made any reference to this on either side.

Editors Of Don Staff Plan Christmas Issue

Plans for the Christmas edition of the Don were made by the staff Monday evening at a meeting at Jame's cafe.

This edition of the paper is to be different from any other that has been put out in this school. Art features will be given the same value as news articles. Assignments have already been made to the entire class for this particular edition.

Rodney Chamberlain, Dorothy McDonald, Jane Stewart, Ruth Ann Walker, W. H. Roach, Myron Dunagan, Carl Bergman, Adelaide Mueller, Mr. Stewart and Mr. Williams comprise the group who have made the plans for the Christmas edition of the Don.

Stationery Sold By "Y. W."

Stationery bearing the college seal in scarlet and black will be on sale Friday.

The Y. W. will be in charge of the sale. Judging from the popularity of the college stationery sold by the Y. W. last year, it will be well for students to get their orders in early, according to Mary Bruner, president.

VENTRILOQUISTS ON ASSEMBLY PROGRAM

Eddie Gerhardt and Keith Trickey will give a ventriloquist act in the assembly today, according to Dave Cherry, member of the assembly committee. All who have seen these young men in such an act before know what is in store for them.

Several musical numbers are to be included on the program. The men's double quartet will sing two numbers. Jane Stewart will play a violin solo. The Bruner twins, Mary and Marian, will sing a number of folk songs.

Algol Staff Deciding On Annual Cover

Eleanor Turner, editor of this year's Algol has chosen her staff and work has already begun. The motif is working out and the staff is now selecting the paper and cover to be used.

The staff is as follows: editor in chief, Eleanor Turner; assistant editor, Phyllis Jamison; faculty administration, Elizabeth Mateer; student administration, Isabel Seracusa; A. W. S., Elizabeth Bender; classes, Emma Lenhardt; activities, May Kikushi and Ruth Ann Walker; the college year, Marion Bruner; social, Mildred Staples; organizations, Marion Gardner; men's sports, Wylie Carlyle; women's sports, Lavinia Compton; humor, Walter Chandler; snaps, Florence Brownridge.

Phyllis Jamison, Isabel Sircicusa and May Kikushi are all from Huntington Beach and the first two have had former experience on the staff there.

Emma Lenhardt, Mildred Staples, Wylie Carlyle, Lavinia Compton and Florence Brownridge are freshmen members of the staff.

The sophomore members are Eleanor Turner, Elizabeth Mateer, Elizabeth Bender, from the east, Ruth Ann Walker, Marion Bruner, Marion Gardner and Walter Chandler.

Many of these members have had previous experience and the staff has a good beginning on this year's publication, according to the editor.

Sophs Victorious Over Frosh Class In Flag Rush Here

George Tobias Scales Pole To Plant Winning Banner; Rally Featured

The sophomores are now the recognized superiors of the freshmen. George Tobias, president of the Associated Students, shinned up the pole to heights as yet not reached by freshmen and there solemnly placed the sophomore colors. Sophomores used the old "bean" to secure victory over the husky beefy freshmen.

The rally attracted a large crowd of college students, high school pupils, and townspeople. The pole and the campus were lit up by the flood light on the building, and a spot light on the "Y" Hut.

Lighting was in charge of George Wardwell and Clark Hayhurst. The rally was a wonderful success when compared to the one last year and it did a lot to "pep up" the college students.

It is hoped that this rally will be but the beginning of similar "pep" meetings and not the end. "If the fire chief had allowed the committee to build a bon fire the rally would have gone over better," George Butler stated "We will need a rally before the Long Beach game here and to stir up enthusiasm. A serpentine through town has also been proposed."

Two Business Men On Junior Lions Program

A peppy and business like meeting was held by the Junior Lions club on Monday evening, October 15.

Mr. Sunquist, a real estate dealer, and Mr. Hunt, the manager of the county fair, both members of the Santa Ana Lions club, were present. These men will give a dinner dance to the Junior Lions on their charter night, which will be within the next few weeks, it is hoped.

The state governor of the Junior Lions clubs of California is making a trip soon to San Diego, and Willard White, president of the local club is trying to get him to stop over in Santa Ana to present to them their charter.

The Junior Lions is latest addition to the clubs of the campus. They seem to be very peppy, and it is known that all of their dues have been paid.

Modern Camels Caravan To Pasadena Game

Modern camels in the forms of Fords, junkers, and what-not, filled with modern shieks and co-eds, trailed behind two patrolmen in a modern manner last Saturday, on the way to Pasadena for the Santa Ana-Pasadena game.

The students met in front of the Santa Ana junior college at 12:30 p. m. and after about twenty machines had assembled, the policeman took the lead, the others followed as best they could. The noise of throbbing motors and panting radiators was lost in the din of the familiar whistle of the law, and the progressive speedometers were accompanied by an air of much nonchalance for the reason that the policemen were ahead instead of otherwise.

However, according to reports, the recent caravan was not as successful as the one to Riverside last year, yet it is hoped that the plan will be adopted again, because it assures a better turn out for out-of-town games and competitions.

Freshmen Revolt When Paddled by Sophs

Where's your beanie frosh? What? You mean that—swat him men! Bang slap—pow—ouch! I'll get it, you dirty bums.

Last Friday morning the sophomores proved that tho' their numbers were few their courage was not lacking and they undertook to chastise the naughty little freshmen who wouldn't wear their pretty little caps. The men provided themselves with cute little hand-painted paddles like mother used to make and use.

Now folks would you believe it maybe, but the freshmen gathered together in big-beef groups and decided to stop the paddling business and succeeded after three individual riots characterized by flying tackles and line plunges.

This massacre was not accomplished without considerable noise and it was not long before professors scurried and ambled out to try and stop what they thought was a second edition of the World War but they were afraid of being mistaken for freshmen and getting a paddling or of being mistaken for sophomores and getting half killed.

THE SPIRIT OF FIGHT

Physical encounterment between members of the student body may seem to be a brutal and childish method of obtaining spirit around a college campus, but one thing can be said in its favor—it always works.

Have you noticed the renewed pep and enthusiasm around and about the college since the frosh and sophs mixed together in their various battles last week. Since this result is obtained surely fights in the hall and otherwise have many merits.

A good fight may serve two purposes, these two purposes exactly opposite. It can be used to work off excessive anger and energy and it can be used to work up pep and spirit.

In Santa Ana college the last result is the one we wish to obtain. It can be overdone, but the idea of rivalry between the classes should ever in our minds.

SOMETHING NEW

A meeting of the editorial staff of the Don was held last Monday night to discuss the Christmas edition of the paper. And from the results of that meeting the students are assured of something unusual in the way of journalistic work.

It was decided at the meeting that the actual plans for the edition will be kept secret. However, the staff promises to present a new idea never before seen in this junior college.

THE CARAVAN

We suggest that the caravan to the next game away from home move a little slower to allow the whole line of cars to arrive at the game intact. Last week the caravan looked fine starting out with nearly twenty cars, but since fifty miles an hour is a little fast for some of these "collegiate" cars, the showing made in Pasadena with only four cars was neither attractive nor impressive. And as far as the trip home—well, the less said the better.

THIS BEANIE QUESTION

The question has come up as to whether or not the freshmen should still continue to wear their beanies since the soph announced that they would not wear them even if they did lose the fight.

To answer this it might be well to remember a few facts concerning the original command to the frosh about the caps. It has always been the order that the beanies should be worn until the end of the football season. As for the proposition made by the sophomores, that was only a side issue and did not in any way repeal the first command.

So as we see it, the frosh are still to wear their caps as before if they wish to live up to tradition and command. And the response to this at the present time will show of what stuff the class is made of.

STEALING

Stealing has become a bad habit around the school and especially in the Don office. Some people call it borrowing but we just cannot see it that way. And in particular we wish to know what has happened to our scissors. If they are returned this week—why, no questions asked. If they are not back—then beware.

So They Say

Art Gross—Honest: No kidding.

This is the truth.

Omar Julius Williams—I'm from Garden Grove.

Frosh Valentine—I love me, I love me not.

"Bill" Cook—Everybody do a lap around the track.

Felix, the Cat—Meow!

Bill Roach—What's the latest scandal?

Loretta Spangler—Where's my wandering boy tonight?

George Texas Tobias—Give the girl a big hand.

"Red" Edwards—I'm gonna get a girl, cause I never had a girl.

Dot Lutz—Please, mister, will you crank this darned old Ford for me?

Terry Elmo Stephenson—Say Bo, what's the chance for a little loan?

Mary Bruner—What will I do?

Sammy Griswold—Ah, ha, you scoofers, I gotta shave and a haircut both. Play that over on your harp up there.

A hard-luck story is one that all the editors have rejected.

Toby's mother: "Hurry up, George, or you'll be late. Have you got your shoes on yet?"

Toby: "Yes, mama. All except one."

Geography teacher: "Royce Edson, what is it that lives near the North pole? It is white and its name begins with B".

Royce: "Oh! Yes! I know, teacher—Commander Byrd."

Dean Fisk: "I saw a good professional football game yesterday."

Freshman: "Was anyone hurt?"

Dean Fisk: "I said professional."

The Clock On The Wall

By Florence Caverly

I gazed at its round stupid face

And hope for inspiration.

I tap my pencil, scratch my head,

And rave at education.

My mind is blank, I've no brains at all

When I've time to think of the clock on the wall.

I've physics to learn and his-try to read.

I'm wild with devotion!

My Spanish book's dusty—never in use—

And—my French pronunciation—!!

But my mind is blank—I'm doomed for a fall

As I watch the hands move on the clock on the wall.

A FROSH'S LETTER TO HER DIARY

Dear Diary:

I am still having a tragic time with my French. I just don't why that language was invented. Why can't Frenchmen talk English like the rest of civilized people do? I'll admit the French do have a little right to their language.

My English is about the same. I wrote a most marvelous theme last week. Really, dear diary, that theme was good; but somehow Miss Miller didn't see it that way, evidently, cause she gave me C. That was downright injustice, both to me and my masterpiece, but at that a C is supposed to be halfway respectful grade.

I'm still off the boys, but am having a keen time with my girl friends. There is sure a bunch of girls around this college. I'm getting well acquainted and will tell you more about the girls later, as it is past my bed time now.

Joax

Blend: "Mister, give me ten cents, I am blind."

Gent: "You can see out of one eye."

Blind: "Then give me a nickel."

He: "What's your dog's name?"

She: "Ginger".

He: "Does Ginger bite?"

She: "No, Ginger snaps".

Science teacher: "What is evaporation?"

Pupil: "Evaporation is when you study two hours and forget all you know."

Heard in the bookkeeping room.

1st: "I hear Red is a good book-keeper."

2nd: "Very good. He's had my geology book for two weeks."

Miss Martin, music teacher, was giving a lecture to one of her classes. "Now remember, students, the mouth is the largest thing in music."

1st: "Do you believe in a here-after?"

2nd: "Yes, why?"

1st: "Well, I'm here after the ten semoleons you owe me."

Campus Chatter

Lovers in the olden days gassed on the steps. Nowadays they—you finish it Jack!

Red Guyer said he saw a sign this summer that read like this: "By order of the trustees, cows grazing by the roadside or riding bicycles on the sidewalks is hereby forbidden."

"Why not let the cows have some freedom?" said Red.

Who's responsible for the bottle the editor's desk drawer? Oh well! It was only a Delaware bottle.

Bill Schovling, who drove out from the East this summer, says a detour is the wrong way to the right place.

Jack Clark: "Ah, a new car! How's the pick-up?"

Charlie Spotts: "Haven't had a chance to try it yet. Dorothy rides with me most of the time."

Chet Page was heard to remark in English the other day that they say women always pay, but he has never been out with one who did.

We always thought that Hi-Hat Jessup was all wet. Now we know it. She fell in the creek at the Y. W. retreat.

The girls who went to the retreat say that no one can wind a clock as tight as Lavinia Compton seems to be wound. She apparently never runs down.

Cretia Jones is threatening Doyle Stockton. She told him he would wake up some day playing a harp or better yet—sizzling.

That's My Weakness Now

Sophomores—Pole climbing.

Red—Helen Knox.

Merle Youel—Scarlet shirts.

George Tobias—Josephine.

Art Gross—Sweet A-do-line.

Ed Gerhardt—You know what.

Parisian Patty—The Long Green.

Frances Forcey, S. A. J. C. Graduate Awarded High Honor At Barnard

Former Student Appointed
Art Editor College
Year Book

Frances Forcey, a graduate of Santa Ana junior college in 1927 and now a senior at Barnard college, New York, has been chosen art editor of the Barnard annual.

Miss Forcey was selected from a group of 3,000 students. Her appointment was made upon her work done on the Algol and Ariel here at Santa Ana. Her contribution to this college will long be remembered. She was always willing to help in any art work, no matter how great or how small the task was. It is this characteristic which is said to be responsible for the great honor conferred upon her.

At the present time Miss Forcey is taking no art courses. After she completes her course at Barnard college she will again take up the study of art.

Three College French Clubs Are Organized

The three French clubs of the college are now fully organized since the two clubs, composed of students enrolled in beginning French, elected their officers last week.

Keith Trickey was elected president of "Bon Matin", the breakfast club. George Warner was chosen vice-president. Lavinia Compton, and David Cherry were elected secretary and treasurer respectively. Terry Stephenson will act as historian and Victor Almaraz will report the activities of the club. It is the plan of this club to have a breakfast every two weeks at the James' cafe.

The luncheon club, "Gais Parisiens" elected Margaret Cianfoni as president. Edwin Gerhardt was chosen vice-president, and Delmer Brown was elected to the office of secretary. Isabelle Siracusa will act as treasurer. This club has its meetings during the noon hour.

First Practice Debate Will Be Friday

Eddie Gerhardt, Dean Cowley, Arthur Gross, and Keith Trickey are the students who will represent Santa Ana junior college in a practice debate with Riverside.

The question is, resolved: "That branch banking in California be not extended."

It will be a dual debate, Riverside's negative team debating here, Friday, November 2 at 3 o'clock, and Santa Ana's negative team journeying to Riverside, Monday, November 5.

Mid-Day Contests In Music Room

A series of mid-day contests are being planned and will be presented through the courtesy of various radio corporations every Thursday noon at 11:30 in the music department. All students are invited to attend.

The San Francisco Symphony Orchestra is listed on the first program presented by the Standard Oil Company, through the courtesy of Robinson's Electric Company.

Thursday evening a radio concert will be given in the music department. If enough students attend and seem interested, the evening programs will continue every Thursday evening at 7 p. m.

W. A. A. Now Only For Girl Athletes

Formerly every woman who was a member of the Associated Student Body was also a member of the Woman's Athletic Association. The constitution has been revised so that it now reads, "Every woman who is a member of the Associated Student Body and who has earned 50 points in sports becomes an active member of the W. A. A."

Following the basketball game Monday evening, the members of the W. A. A. indulged in a dip in the pool, after which a fine supper was served in the "hut".

The water is reported to have been fine and enjoyed by all, and so far no one has been put on the causality list in spite of the quantities of cake which were consumed at the supper.

The arrival of Miss Anderson, formerly of the J. C. physical education department, and her niece, Violet Gardner, almost caused a riot as the girls swarmed over them, but peace was restored when the welcoming was over.

Following the "eats", Mary Bruner led the girls in some songs, after which a very entertaining skit was given by a number of the girls. The evening was climaxed when the lights were turned out and Ruth Tantlinger read a wierd story.

In a hard fought tug-of-war, the frosh class of Compton junior college won over the soph class, to determine the class supremacy for this year. Compton Silver Sheet.

Shade of Pompeii

The old building isn't what she used to be. Yesterday Mrs. Tessmann's class in history of civilization was rudely awakened by a veritable hailstorm of plaster and other building materials.

The class hastily removed itself from the scene of the disaster to a less dangerous area. Considerable excitement and much joy was experienced because this will be another argument for a new building or rather group of buildings. No mother wants her darling children sent to a school where they may be in danger of having the world fall about their ears any minute.

What the school needs is new buildings or else more classes in the great outdoors.

Parisian Patty

Dearest Mother and Dad:

It was certainly sweet of you to send me that check. It came this morning and I bought the loveliest things with it. You see, I was invited to an informal dinner and theater party and I had absolutely nothing to wear. I thought I could get that brown outfit some other time, and I did want this dress so badly. It is a chanel model in bright red lace. The skirt is longer in back than in front, (although not as long as a formal gown) and it has that new swathed hip line. I'm awfully glad I'm slender because nearly all the dresses have wide fitted bands at the hips. They had some satin slippers dyed to match the dress. Shoes that really match make the outfit so much more complete, you know, although some people prefer a contrasting color.

I just got a bill for that brown hat. I'm sorry I couldn't pay for it, but I had just enough money left to get an adorable set of jewelry to wear with that red dress. Rubies are awfully popular now so of course that is what I bought—earrings, bracelet and necklace.

Oh, dear, I've talked of nothing but clothes, and now I haven't time to tell you about my studies and grades. I'll tell you about the studies in my next letter.

Lovingly

Patty

Pamphlet On Parliamentary Law Written By L. L. Beeman Of J. C.

Number Post Grads Exceeds Last Year

Twenty-seven post graduate students are now enrolled at Santa Ana junior college, reports Dean Fisk. This number exceeds last year's enrollment by twenty-four students.

That this school is a good one in which to receive instruction in physical education is supported by the fact that sixteen out of the twenty-seven students are taking physical education courses. Others are taking full time work in various courses.

Approximately one half of the post graduates were sophomores at Santa Ana junior college. All are living at home. A few are undecided as to what they'll do next year, but most plan to complete their college education.

Y. M. C. A. Activities Are Again Started

Four J. C. men attended a Y. M. meeting at U. S. C., Wednesday night. The entertainment was in the form of a banquet and an induction meeting. The local men were initiated with other candidates into the U. S. C. Y. M. C. A.. Dr. Cook, a member of the faculty gave the address of the evening discussing the purpose of the Y. M. C. A.

The men reported seeing Melvin Harter and Ed Riniker, former S. A. J. C. men. Those attending were George Tobias, Ray Lindman, Sterling Barnett, and Harold Watson.

Budget Decided Upon At College Y Retreat

At the last meeting of the Y. M. C. A., which took place on October 20 to 21, at Trabucco Canyon, the duties for the committees which are yet to be chosen were outlined, and outstanding bills were O. K'd.

One of the important agreements which were reached was the making out of next year's budget. The budget always seems to be the hardest problem confronting any organization, the Y. M. C. A. not excepted, but it was finally solved.

Publishing Completed This Week In J. C. Printing Department

L. L. Beeman, head of the social science department, is the author of a pamphlet on parliamentary law.

Printing in the Department of Printing, Santa Ana junior college, the booklets are being completed this week. President D. K. Hammond has ordered 1,600 pamphlets published. Orders will be filled for El Centro high school and junior college as well as for the Santa Ana P.-T. A., Mr. Beeman stated.

The present edition is revised, the first one having been published several years ago. Prof. Beeman originally wrote the booklet for his high school citizenship classes to give them a simple outline of parliamentary law.

O. K. And Press Clubs Frolic This Week-End

The spirit of Hallowe'en will be the motif of two parties during the coming week-end. The Press club members will bump into ghosts and witches on Friday evening, at Frances Brown's, at 607 W. Vermont, Anaheim. The O. K.'ers will meet at the home of Mr. H. A. Scott, at 1057 W. Eighth St. Santa Ana, on Saturday evening.

The mysteries of the Press club party are in charge of Sterling Barnett and George Tobias. Ruth Ann Walker is chairman of the refreshment committee; Willard White, Ray Lindman, and Adelaide Mueller will furnish entertainment; and Rodney Chamberlain, Madelyn Morlock and Frances Brown will decorate for the party.

A diagram on the bulletin board will show the members how to reach Frances Brown's home.

Dons - Bulldogs Battle To Tie

Dons Score In First Six Minutes Of Play; Bulldogs Tie Score In Second Quarter. Norton, Rust Make Tallies

Two Big Heaves By Pasadena Result In Touchdowns

Facing a real fighting Pasadena aggregation which had never tasted the days of defeat by a Santa Ana team, Coach "Bill" Cook's Dons almost turned the trick for the first time.

The Dons had complete possession of the ball for the first six minutes of play, with Norton and Rust packing the pigskin for long gains. After a weak start, Rust returned the ball 15-yards from the kickoff. Norton took it to the 50-yard line on the next play, from here Rust started on his 50-yard gallop for the first tally. Shortly after, on a pass, Guyer brought the ball to the 15-yard line from which Norton made the second score.

All of this bit of excitement happened in the first six minutes of play. The Dons taking the Bulldogs off of their feet like a tornado.

In the second quarter Pasadena opened up their passing attack and Thompson diminutive quarter started it with a 30-yard toss to Harris. Another pass to Haight took it over. Thompson again started to pass, tossing a 45-yard heave to Harris for the second score.

The last half was wild and wooly with both teams trying to score, but all in vain.

Rust showed up well in the first stanza, had he only kept up his marvelous toting, it might have been a different tale.

Captain Woodington played his usual bang up game and deserves much credit. Hylton played well in the line, representing himself in almost every tackle.

Dutton and Norton played a stiff defense against the passes in the last half and undoubtedly saved the day for the Dons against the mad rush of the Bulldogs scoring via the aerial route.

Hansen, a 230 pound center, starred for Pasadena, stopping everything directed at him.

The lineup:
Santa Ana (12) (12) Pasadena
Hafer LER Haight
Hylton LTR (C) Beyea

Don-Viking Tilt On Tap Saturday

Saturday the Dons will meet the Long Beach Vikings on the local gridiron in what will be as hard a game as the home boys will have to play this season. The Vikings last Saturday beat the Glendale eleven by a score of 13-8 and according to all reports the beach boys are hard scrappers.

The Dons emerged from the Pasadena game in pretty good shape and Coach Cook is putting them in shape for the game Saturday. Inasmuch as the Vikings are adept at passing, special attention is being paid to developing an air tight defense against such threats. The boys let Pasadena catch them asleep a couple of times but for the most part were able to smear lots of the aerial attacks.

It is hoped that several of the boys who have been enjoying (?) positions of rest upon the bench will be back in the game fighting for the Dons. Bill Dugger may get into the game as may one or two others who have been out of the last couple of games on account of injuries. Coach Cook refrained from using some of the boys in the Pasadena game in the hopes that they would profit by the forced rest and be in condition to play in the ensuing games.

State Tests Show J. C. Pool Is Pure

By state tests taken unknown to the caretakers of the swimming pool, it has been found that the water in the pool is more pure than the water which the people drink.

The pool is completely filtered every seven hours and chlorine is added in sufficient quantities to kill all bacteria such as might occur.

SPORT SHORTS

The boys on the gridiron seem to be working hard but there still seems to be lots of gloom about the loss of Jack Casey, the stellar letterman.

Venus Horvey, the ripping full-back has ripped two pair of football pants and may start on his third pair any time.

There are four girls basketball teams and at present there is not much choice between them for the championship.

Jack Dutton, regular halfback, seems to never get jerked in on a passing attack.

The "leper" colony, established in the old gym, seems to be getting along nicely despite the inconveniences experienced.

Carol Bertolet, our halfback from San Francisco, has become known as Tony Mustachio by the players due to his "cookie-duster".

The answer to the maiden's prayer, Maurice Guyer, is surely carrying his red hair around the field with lots of the old speed.

Harmon Squad Sinks Staples Basketeers

With both teams playing fast from start to finish, Dorothy Harmon's team swamped Mildred Staples six with a score of 23 to 12 last Monday night.

The game was characterized by fast plays on the part of both teams. "Dodo" was the high scorer of the game, with the other forward also giving good accounts of themselves. "Dodo's" team took the lead early in the first quarter and maintained it throughout the game. "Toot's" team made a rally in the second half that started to even the score, but it was not sufficient to bring victory to them.

Dope-Upsets Featured In Conference Battles Over Week-End. Fullerton Defeats Compton; Vikings Triumph

Donnas Answer To Call For Coaches

Eleven girls of the college have responded to the call issued by the grammar schools of the city for coaches.

These girls will first give instructions in the fundamentals of baseball, after which a baseball tournament between the schools will follow. At the completion of the baseball season, basketball will be taken up.

A list of the girls taking part in this work and the schools they have selected are here given.

Catherine Jessup, John Muir; Florence Brownridge, Grand Avenue; Helen Richards, McKinley; Barbara Goodrich, Edison; Frances Bourne, Lowell; Marian Bruner, Delhi; Margaret Glenn, Franklin; Josephine Ball, Roosevelt; Alice Prather, Artesia; Pauline Neddermeyer, Lincoln; Louise Ward, Jefferson.

Mermaids To Hold Practice In Class

Due to the fact that practically all of the good swimmers and aspirants to the girls swimming team of the college are in the advanced swimming class no after school practices are to be held.

Practice for the team will take place in the class, and later publication will announce the outstanding swimmers. This class meets on Tuesdays and Thursdays from 9 to 10. Anyone not in the class who wishes to try for the team may join the class.

Chaffey Surprises San Berdoo; Tigers Defeat Pomona Frosh

Santa Ana's rival, Fullerton, upset the dope last Saturday by their win over the Compton Cougars by a score of 6-0. The tally came in the second quarter as a result of Jewett's 102 yard run after scooping up a bobble of White who had put the ball on Fullerton's 6-inch line. Neither team scored in the second half.

According to the dope Fullerton was the weaker of the two teams but nevertheless she managed to score on a break, and then held the desperate Cougars scoreless no less than five times in the second half. The statistics of the game show that Compton really out played the Yellow Jackets but the Fullerton eleven managed to stiffen the defense when scores seemed imminent and staved off the plunges of the heavier Compton team.

Long Beach also kicked over the dope bucket by defeating the Glendale gridders 13-8 in a bitterly fought contest at Poly field, Long Beach. The outcome of the clash was not decided until the final gun barked as both teams had smashing offenses that ate up the yards and Glendale was making determined rushes toward the Vikings goal.

Chaffey and San Bernardino played hard football for a scoreless tie last Saturday. Both teams had wonderful defenses and were unable to penetrate the opposition's line. This is a surprise for the Eastern Division as Chaffey heretofore has been the weak sister of the Inland Conference.

Riverside Jaycee defeated the Pomona Frosh by a score of 46-0.

Presidential campaigns seem to have racketeen aspects. National politics makes a sage say that "Business in Politics is Immoral".

In any business where "the ends justify the means" there is always grave danger. In three years the Excelsior Creamery Company has done three things vital to the better health of this community. Only intelligent men and women can appreciate the value of these moves. Time will tell whether we are "working in the shadows"
